Dear friend,

Please excuse the informality of this response but my wife and I are now too feeble and with too many medical problems to be able to continue making what for so many years we have, individual responses.

Years ago we made an arrangement with the fine local college, Hood College, for my records and my work to be a permanent archive there. Those arrangements included my giving Hood all the remaining copies of the book I published for it to sell.

More recent and added medical problems led to our giving all those books to Hood.

Those of you who may want copies of some you do not have should write the Hood College Bookstore, 401 Rosemont Avenue, Frederick, Maryland, 21701.

To those of you who took the time to extend good wishes we are particularly grateful and we thanks you for that and for your hopes and good wishes.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
